

WINTERABC23

Community

@Afrobloggers

Suggested Topics from the Community

- Since Africa has agro-based economies can we make a section based on nature? Something that will celebrate what farmers and vendors go through especially during winter. I think it is nice touch to tap into the land for example, I once went to Hamara to see how they process tomatoes and a very good poem came out of it and not only that it made them to start to think about how they handle their own social media presence.

- Cultural norms

- Managing one's finances

- Africa in Entertainment (Books, Blackwashing, Series, Authenticity, History)

- Depression, Mental Health, Culture

- Religion, Health, African cultures, Relationship, Money, Education.

- Culture, faith, wellness and advocacy.

- Perseverance

- Do right by others no matter what.

- Being a giver

- Collaborate with at least one other person because two heads are better than one learn to show mercy it will help you live an open life

- Being charitable

- Be a person of excellence

- Have space in your life to chase the impossible

- Relationships

- Stories from narcissistic points of view. Acknowledgment of personal toxicity.

- Bullying in schools

- Toxic work environment

- crypto scams

- failed African states (poor leadership)

- childhood trauma and how it affects us as adults.

- cults in disguise of religions (religious scams).

- Sex and Candy

- Letter to old self

- Letter to young self

- Cultural appropriation

- politics in Africa

- black love

- how to unite the continent
- breaking generational curse
- hustle mentality